Chamber moving to monthly meetings

The new executive of Elk Point Chamber of Commerce presided over their first meeting last week, and were pleased to fill the vacant Treasurer's chair with volunteer Sandy Smith, who recently filled the same role on the 2003 Christmas Extravaganza committee.

New president Rod Randall suggested that all of the Chamber's business could be dealt with efficiently at one meeting per month, rather than two, and although another member suggested that the cutback might signal "the beginning of a decline" in Chamber activities, the members present agreed to try the new schedule on a temporary basis. The next Chamber meeting will therefore be on Wednesday, April 7 at 12:00 noon.

Representatives to community committees were chosen, as were volunteers for the Chamber's own committees. Vicki Brooker, with Marlene Malachowski as alternate, will represent the Chamber on the Interagency Health Committee, while Rod Randall and Jonny Nielsen said they would be happy to continue as Chamber representatives on the oil and gas liaison committee. Vicki Brooker will also represent the Chamber on the Canada Day committee, while Shirley Harms was appointed to lead a new committee which will create a directory of Chamber member businesses for distribution to members, residents and visitors.

Only members will be included in the directory, and there is still time for businesses which have not purchased a membership to date, to be included. Call president Rod Randall at 724-4099 for membership information. The directory will be distributed at member businesses and the tourist information centre and will help to promote the goods and services available locally.

Jonny Nielsen gave a brief report on the last oil industry meeting, and said Canadian Natural Resources is currently reorganizing their newly enlarged operation, with the area from Highway 640 north run out of Bonnyville and the area south of 640 run out of Lloydminster. Contractors who previously worked for the companies purchased by CNRL will need to negotiate agreements if they wish to work for the company, who will also continue to use the contractors that have been working for CNRL, Nielsen said. Employees of the bought-out companies who wish to join CNRL's staff have been interviewed for needed positions. There are indications that some existing wells will be started up and there could "be quite a bit of activity".

Doctor recruitment was also discussed, with a delegation from the Chamber asking to meet with Town Council on March 8 to seek solutions to the problem, which is felt to be a major hurdle to the community's growth and progress.

St. Lina, St. Paul 4-Hers win District speak-off honors

Speakers from St. Lina and St. Paul 4-H clubs took home the first place trophies from Sunday's District Public Speaking Competition, hosted by the Elk Point 4-H Multi Club.

Senior winner was Josee Amyotte of St. Lina 4-H Beef Club, with a discourse on the serious issue of obesity entitled "A Growing Concern" and an impromptu which answered a vehement "yes" to the question, "Has television become too violent?" Second place in the senior division went to Coral VanDerVoort of Goodridge 4-H Beef Club, whose prepared speech, "Behind Closed Doors" dealt with sexual harassment, followed up by her impromptu, "Why I Am Proud to be Canadian". Also competing in the senior division were Angele Lamontagne of St. Paul 4-H Multi Club and Shaun Robinson of Elk Point 4-H Multi Club.

An additional round of impromptu was required to break a three-way tie in the Intermediate division, with Danica Dallaire of St. Lina, Ian Brousseau of St. Paul Multi and Kaila Kissel of St. Paul Light Horse Club all giving their thoughts on "Is competition in 4-H good?" Ian Brousseau, who had entertained the audience with his prepared speech, "Family Bloopers II" and his first impromptu, "Is cheating a problem at school?", took the position that competition could discourage some members and make them feel left out, to win the tiebreaker. Danica Dallaire took second place, her second impromptu declaring that with competition, comes a lot of good things, adding to her score for a prepared speech, "I Know He's a Winner" which likened her 4-H steer to a handsome young man, and original impromptu on the inconvenience of "Life without electricity". Rebecca Bilodeau of Goodridge Beef and Robyn Ockerman of Elk Point Multi also spoke in the Intermediate division.

Junior winner Marissa Shapka of St. Paul Light Horse Club addressed the necessity of having friends in her prepared speech, "Who Stands By You?" and the delights of "Grandma's Cookie Jar" in her impromptu. Second place went to Jordan Hebert of St. Lina Beef with a rib-tickling CLASSIC SNOWMOBILES SPANNING THREE DECADES were lined up for an impromptu display on Main Street last Saturday. Lillian and Larry Demchuk check out a 1953 Eliason Motor Toboggan owned by Burl Wills of Calgary and restored by Ken Astill of Bonnyville. The machine was originally used by a government survey crew and was purchased by Wills as government surplus. Next in line is a 1968 two-piece Bolens Diablo Rouge, while three machines from the 1970s including a wide track, two-seater 1974 Skidoo complete the lineup. Elk Point Trail Riders brought along their big Bombardier for the occasion.

Iron Horse Trail hits local radio

By Jay Gutteridge
St. Paul Journal

More than 200,000 people could soon be hearing about the Iron Horse Trail on Lakeland airwaves.

The IHT Tourism Product Club struck a deal with the Alberta Radio Group to air free public service announcements in the Lakeland region.

"We've got to use every medium to get the message out there," says IHT Industry Coordinator Wayne Nowak.

On occasion, the radio group could decide to air the announcements on all of its stations in Alberta, with the potential to reach more than two million listeners.

One of the announcements may focus on keeping the towns on the trail clean and presentable.

"People need to be aware what other visitors expect when they come to the region," says Nowak. "It's time to hold a mirror up and see what we're doing and see how we can improve."

Other announcements could tell people about upcoming tourism workshops or even tell them to watch for TV promotions, says Nowak.

"It's walking a fine line

CRIME STOPPERS

Vandalism, break-in Friday night

■ Sometime between 4:30 p.m. on Friday, March 5 and 10:30 a.m. on Saturday, March 6, an outside window of the Servus Credit Union in Elk Point was smashed. Only the outer layer of glass was broken. The damage suggests that a hard object such as a rock or other blunt object was used.

■ Sometime between 4:30 p.m. on Friday, March 5 and 10:30 a.m. on Saturday, March 6, suspect(s) broke into the Esso compound in Elk Point. The main gate lock was cut as well as the latch for the warehouse. About 40 various pails of Esso oil were stolen. Most were pails of 10-40, 10-30 and 15-40, however among them were two pails of Terresso 22-20 and a pail of Mobil SHC 626. Both are used solely for heavy equipment and not for general equipment.

Anyone with information on either of the above incidents is asked to call crime stoppers at 1-800-222-TIPS (8477) or the Elk Point RCMP Detachment at 724-3964.

Crime Stoppers will pay up to $2000 for information leading to the arrest of the person(s) responsible for either of the above or any other crime. You do not have to reveal your identity and if your tip leads to an arrest you qualify for an award.

Alberta

Water review ensures high quality drinking water

When you turn on the tap to pour a glass of water, most people expect the water to be safe and taste great. In keeping with these expectations, the Government of Alberta has completed phase one of a project to ensure all Albertans continue to have the highest drinking water quality possible.

As part of Alberta's Water for Life goal of providing safe, secure drinking water supplies, Alberta Environment is conducting a review of every drinking water facility in the province to determine where and how improvements may be made.

The first phase - conducted from September 2003 to January 2004 - gathered information on the source quality, quantity and protection available for over 530 drinking water facilities in the province.

Now that this inventory is complete, phase two will involve analyzing the data in order to prioritize infrastructure demands and to assist in future planning priorities.

Alberta has among the best drinking water standards in North America. This assessment is about identifying ways to meet and exceed drinking water standards as they continuously improve.

Alberta Environment recently met with the Alberta Urban Municipalities Association (AUMA) and the Alberta Association of Municipal Districts and Counties (AAMD&C) to keep them informed on the process. They will be continue to be involved as phase two of the assessment begins. The final report is expected sometime this fall. In the meantime, information relating to any specific facility will not be released to the public until it has been verified and a thorough analysis has been completed.

No other jurisdiction has undergone such an extensive review of its drinking water facilities. This shows proof of Alberta's commitment to lead the way in responsible and comprehensive water management.

If you have any questions about Water for Life or any other issues, please call the Constituency Office in St. Paul at 645-6999 or toll-free from Lac La Biche at 623-1730. Hollywood theme for Farewell Formal Yesterday students at F. G. Miller High School received their interim reports, which are detailed printouts of all the assignments in the courses they are taking. The intent of the interim reports is to enable parents to quantitatively see where their child's strengths and weaknesses exist. This is john BRAGA

F. G. Miller High

possible because the reports are divided by categories within each course, for instance in English the marks for reading assignments, writing and spelling, and presentations are generally separate categories. According to the marks it looks like we will have another strong semester, and most of the students who had a rough transition are already recovered and settled into their new courses. The reports declare that the semester is already a quarter over, and the final exams are now only three and a half months away with summer vacation following shortly behind that.

The Students Union magazine fundraiser was a moderate success, although the school wide goal of selling 200 subscriptions was not reached we still sold enough to make a sizable profit. The actual number will be totaled by next Tuesday, to be presented at the next Students Union meeting. It has been decided that the magazine sales will be the last fundraising project that the Students Union does this year, however the French Exchange Club and the Athletic Teams will likely hold more before the school year is over. Thank you to every student, parent, staff member, and community member who has participated in a fundraising event this year. Your support is valuable to us, and appreciated by the Students Union on behalf of the Student Body at F.G.M..

Last Wednesday the Class of 2004 held a meeting to continue the planning process for the Farewell Formal, which will be held on Saturday, June 26th. The cooperation between students has been wonderful, with the collaborative attitude allowing the work to be accomplished with little difficulty. Decoration of the Gym at the school will be based on the 'Hollywood' theme, with the evening resembling the glamour and elegance of that star-studded city. While the details have not all been worked out, red, gold and black have been chosen as the class colors and everyone agrees that we need a red carpet and spotlights like at the Oscars. The riding arena, where the dance portion of the evening will be held, will be decorated in a Mexican theme. Hollywood seems like the ideal match for our class, while on the surface it appears elegant and sophisticated, (which pleases the parents) there is another aspect of Hollywood that seems more of an illusion than actual reality, it is almost like a whimsical game that we are playing by stepping into the lives of the rich and famous. In that way it lends itself to the exaggeration of emotions, being swept away in the moment, and everything becoming larger than life.

Fun family activities for healthy living

Eat Well. Be active. Feel good about yourself.

These are all important messages that parents, teachers and other caregivers can reinforce with children. Healthy lifestyle behavior is essential so children can achieve their full physical, mental, social and academic potential. There's no disputing that children who develop healthy eating and activity patterns as they grow and develop can enjoy the health benefits throughout their lives.

March is Nutrition Month and this year's theme of "Eat Well, Play Well" is focusing on healthy eating and physical activity for school-aged children and youth. It's a great time, especially with March break around the corner, to plan activities with kids that will foster healthy living habits they can keep for a lifetime.

"Children get excited about healthy living when it's presented in a fun and interactive way" says Johanne Trudeau, Registered Dietitian. "Planning fun activities around the breakfast table is a great place to start."

Studies have shown that children who eat breakfast perform better at school, get more essential nutrients, are less likely to be overweight and have more energy. Breakfast in an ideal time to take a closer look at nutrition labels on cereal boxes. They provide a great visual tool to help children appreciate the nutritional value of their food choices.

Five fun family activities for healthy living

1. Make a Healthy Living Collage in the shape of a rocket ship using yellow, green, blue and red construction paper to represent the four food groups from Canada's Food Guide to Healthy Eating (yellow for grain products, green for vegetables and fruit, blue for milk products and red for meat and alternatives) cut out food pictures from grocery flyers and old magazines and glue in the appropriate section.

2. Start a family recipe book of your favorite creative, easy-to-make healthy snacks. Some ideas to get started are "Crazy Critter Muffins" and "Cereal Parfaits". For "Crazy Critter Muffins", have everyone help bake a favorite muffin recipe. Spread with cream cheese or peanut butter and decorate with shredded carrot, cereal, pretzels and pieces of fresh and dried fruit to create fun animal faces. Not just for breakfast, "Cereal Parfaits" are a great snack anytime during the day. Choose two or three favorite cereals and alternate layers of cereal in a parfait glass or clear tumble with sliced bananas, strawberries or blueberries. Top with milk.

3. Focus on fitness for the fun of it! Plan a fun family activity like a trip to the zoo, your local swimming pool or ice skating rink. Make time to fly a kite, toss a Frisbee, shoot some hoops or go on a bike ride or nature hike together at a nearby park.

4. Create an "Intergalactic Healthy Living Mobile" by cutting out planets from construction paper. Draw a picture on each to represent a different healthy living habit: eating well, being active, eating breakfast, taking care of teeth, getting enough sleep. Use string to hang the healthy living planets on a coat hanger.

5. Visit www.missionnutrition.ca and check out the Home page for fun activity sheets for children in Kindergarten to Grade 5, the Students section of an interactive online healthy living game designed for older children in Grades 6 to 8, and the Parents section for healthy eating, physical activity and body image. Quizzes and Answers to commonly asked questions.

Family violence and bullying, Part II

Last week I shared with you my opportunity of attending the northeast session of the Alberta Roundtable on Family Violence and Bullying workshop which was held in Bonnyville on Monday, February 23, 2004. This week, as promised, I will continue with the definition of family violence and bullying as covered in the workshop booklet, "Achieving a Violence-Free Alberta is Everybody's Business Regional Workshop Guide and Workbook". To repeat, family violence can best be described as a collection of actions and behaviors, both criminal and non-criminal, that have as their motive the intent to control another person.

Some typical family violence behaviors and the corresponding positive behaviors can be illustrated by the Power and Control Wheel and the Equality Wheel which was developed by battered women as part of the Domestic Abuse Intervention Project in Duluth, Minnesota. In the "Power and Control" wheel, physical and sexual violence is described as: using coercion and threats; using children; using male privilege; and using economic abuse. In the "Equality" wheel of nonviolence the following positive behaviors are listed: negotiation and fairness; non-threatening behavior; respect; trust and support; honesty and accountability; responsible parenting; shared responsibility; and economic partnership.

from the FCSS desk

Most of us are probably familiar with the other definition of family violence which refers to abuse. I will now quote that definition: Family violence is the abuse of power within relationships of family, trust or dependency that threatens survival, security or well-being of another person. It can include many forms of abuse including spouse abuse, senior abuse and neglect, child abuse and neglect, child sexual abuse, parent abuse and witnessing the abuse of others in the family. Family violence may include some or all of the following behaviors: physical abuse; psychological abuse; criminal harassment/stalking; verbal abuse; sexual abuse; financial abuse and spiritual abuse.

To carry this further, our definition of bullying is that bullying is a conscious, willful, deliberate and repeated hostile activity marked by an imbalance of power, intent to harm, and/or a threat of aggression. When bullying escalates unabated, it may lead to a feeling of terror on the part of the individual being bullied. Bullying may include, but is not limited to: physical intimidation or assault, extortion, oral or written threats, teasing, put-downs, name calling, threatening looks, gestures or actions, cruel rumors, false accusations, and social isolation.

To put it simply, it really can be stated that family violence and bullying is the enacting of power to control another person. If we can state the definition that simply, then it is more easy to understand.

This leads to the next obvious question. Why does violence and bullying persist in our society? To truly understand why family violence persists, we need to understand that acts of violence are the product of historical, social, economic and political beliefs and values that are built into the structure of our society.

Bullying persists in our society for many reasons. The popular media in Canada - including television, movies, music and video games - has contributed to a society that not only tolerates aggression but also sees it as an effective solution to personal and social problems. When you put all this together, it is easier to understand why family violence and bullying are complex issues to find solutions for. But if you want to get involved in learning more or become involved in suggesting solutions, go to www.familyviolence-rounndtable.gov.ab.ca

salute to MINOR HOCKEY

Atom Avalanche heads off to Provincials

By Doug Bassett
Review Sports

New hockey skates $199.95. A new hockey helmet $59.95. New hockey gloves $49.95. A trip to the provincial final - priceless. You can't put a price on the chance to go to the provincial final. Some kids play their whole minor hockey career and never get a chance to go to the big show. You can't buy your way in like some rich N.H.L. team with a huge payroll trying to win the Stanley Cup; you have to earn the right to play there.

If someone told you five months ago at the beginning of the season the Atom Avalanche would be going to the big show in March, you would have laughed and walked away. Just barely enough players to ice a team, let alone compete. Who's laughing now? It's strange how some things work out, but whatever happens this coming weekend, the coaching staff of Avalanche, head coach Mike Rainey and assistants Roland Moneta and Brent Becker and team manager Carrie Becker have done a wonderful job of bringing a mixed bag of kids to the final, and could not be prouder of the accomplishments that they have made this year, winning not only the Zone 2 but their league championship as well.

And how fitting is this. The most famous of hockey families, the Sutter brothers all made it to the N.H.L. from here: Viking, Alberta. The Atom D provincial final is being held in the home town of the six Sutter brothers. Almost every small town still has an Atom team so the competition can be tough, each town has one or two top caliber players that excel and can dominate the game, but we know our guys are not coming home without a fight to the finish, a medal would be nice, but it's a lot to ask, especially when they shouldn't even be there. Or should they? Our team this year consists of eleven boys and two girls.

"Hound Dog's" scouting report:

#29 TREVER "KIDD" BALLAS: goalie, backbone of the team, this guy has quick reflexes, great concentration and positioning, excellent puck handling skills with a quick glove hand

#25 LOGAN "BACK CHECKER" BECKER: the youngest member of the Avalanche is only in his first year

of novice but moved up to play along side his older sister and never missed a beat. "Backchecker" earned his name honestly for never quitting and going just as hard both ways, a shifty skater with power to burn, the "Hound Dog" predicts he will develop into the complete package in the years to come.

#77 TORI "T-REX" BECKER; a reliable left wing power forward, has become quite a force along the boards and scoring goals, plays tough but clean hockey

#1 WYATT "MAD DOG" DEWAN; big and solid, hard to move when he camps in front of the net, has great hands for scoring, can perform in high pressure situations

#11 LOUIS "DIGGER" DION: first year in organized hockey, plays right wing, real digger along the boards and drives hard to the net

#10 TAYLOR "T D" DION-ABRAHAM: first year player, big man on the "D" solid on the penalty kill and has a booming slap shot

#30 SHELDON "STUMPY" JURAK: right winner and real hard nosed grinder, physically strong and very durable

#55 TYSON "MARIO" MONETA: big center man with great work habits, excellent on face-offs, doesn't score much but has got his share of assists, his attitude and determination is worth a goal a game

#2 RAVEN "BEAUTIE" GUINNEY: first year player not intimidated by anyone, plays a fearless style, it's no secret that she has a desire to win, has started to develop some fine hockey skills

#66 BRANDON "ROADRUNNER" RAINEY: real competitor, hates to lose, a brilliant skater with speed and great moves, always looking for open ice, a premier sniper that has the capacity to find small openings in the goalies' armor

#7 KEN STANLEY JR. "JUNIOR": Junior has been here before, veteran solid two way defenseman, a second year Atom making his second trip to the provincial finals, doesn't get caught out of position often, can move the puck intelligently, not fooled by dazzling moves, good on the power play

#4 JAMISON "FUZZY" WOZNAK: smart center man who handles the puck well, although he's not big, he handles himself with the best of them, great two way player who never backs down when trouble starts and has been known to instigate some of it himself

#15 JORDYN "TIGER" WOZNAK: tough and talented second year defenseman making his second trip to the show, the quarterback of the team loves to carry the puck and often goes go coast to coast, solid at blocking shots, has the ability to rush but still tends to his own end first.

Have a great tournament, Avalanche!

salute to MINOR HOCKEY

Elk Point Minor Hockey's stars of the 2003-04 season

As another Minor Hockey season nears its end, Elk Point and district fans pay tribute to the rising young hockey stars who have represented our community on five very competitive teams this year.

Although only one of the teams made it to Provincial championships, all five have provided home town fans with a winter filled with exciting challenges as they took to the ice in league and exhibition games and tournaments.

Thanks to all the coaches, assistant coaches, managers and other volunteers who encourage these young players as they learned and perfected on-ice skills and sportsmanship in Canada's favorite winter sport.

Thanks to the parents who arranged their schedules around practices and games, families and friends who came to cheer on the teams, and the players themselves, who provided great hockey action all season long.

MIDGET THUNDER hosted their annual tournament this past weekend at the Thunderdome, and ended up in the B final. Thunder is coached by former WHL player Craig Martin with the assistance of two Thunder alumni, Curtis Croteau and Peter Danyluk.

ELK POINT PEEWEE AVALANCHE is coached by Dave Cousins with the assistance of Geoff Bishop and Gary Marceniuk. Despite some very early mornings for the team this past weekend as they played in a tournament in St. Walburg, SK, the difference in time zones didn't keep them from winning the "B" side trophies.

ELK POINT NOVICE HURRICANES are coached by Jason Jenner with the assistance of Lawrence Ference and Brent Becker. This past weekend they had the opportunity to try out the classic outdoor form of the game, pond hockey, at a tournament in Lac La Biche.

ELK POINT REVIEW - 724-4087

salute to MINOR HOCKEY

A cool experience for the Novice Hurricanes

This is really cool! Yes, it was little chilly on Saturday, the sun was shining but the wind was a little cool blowing across the lake. Oh, you mean, "cool" as in the coolest game on ice, hockey played outside, "On frozen pond".

The Novice Hurricanes dressed in canvas army tents, had no lines to worry about, no such thing as off sides, digging the puck out of the snow bank without a whistle, dog sleds and race cars buzzing on the outside rim of the lake, and all the kids received a new hockey jersey to take home to boot. The Lac La Biche first annual pond hockey tournament sounds like a winner to me, and something for the kids to look forward to next year. Skyler Ewasiuk and Zachary Ference scoring goals in this old-style game, the Jenner Brothers, Matthew and Andrew sharing the goaltending duties.

"Early to bed and early to rise, makes a man happy, wealthy and wise." No sleeping in for these guys this past weekend: the Pee wee Avalanche woke up early Saturday and Sunday mornings, headed east across the line to St. Walburg, doug

Review Sports

Sask. There's a one-hour difference so what turned out to be a 8 a.m. start there time was a 7 a.m. here, that's like 5 a.m. getting up out of bed, dressed and on the road. Now, that's what I call dedication to the game. In the first game on Saturday the Avalanche lost a close one to Loon Lake 4 to 2, then on Sunday morning at 8 a.m. they played Maidstone, winning that one 7 to 2, sending them to the B final at 3 p.m. Sunday against Meadow Lake which they won 4 to 3.

Thunder

The Midget Thunder played one of their best games of the season with a big 6 to 4 win in Mallaig on Wednesday night. Call it teamwork, six different guys contributed on the score sheet, Tyler Loughran, Jesse "the Jet" Kozicky, Myles "Mylo" Quinney, Scott "Tank" Dallaire, Craig Dallaire, and Nicky "the sniper" Myshaniuk all scoring.

Maybe the guys burned up all their energy on Wednesday because on Friday night in the opening game of the Thunder tournament against Bonnyville the same effort didn't seem to be there, the Thunder losing 6 to 3. The Dallaire Brothers, "Tank" and Craig both scoring, Brett Gadwa also adding a single.

Saturday it was a totally different story again, the Thunder defeating Andrew 4 to 1, Myles "Mylo" Quinney, Scott "Tank" Dallaire, Brodie Schmitt and Nicky "the sniper" Myshaniuk all scoring. Goalie Ryan Bardoel was seven seconds away from getting a shutout. With three teams in the pool tied with one win and one loss apiece, a shutout would have sent the Thunder to the A final, but instead their goals for and against put them in the B final against Lloydminster on Sunday, the Thunder losing this one 9 to 6. It was a good effort by the boys, who outshot Lloyd 43 to 35 but couldn't cash in on their chances.

All in all, the entire tournament was a great success for the arena and for the town, and the parents and coaching staff should be congratulated for a job well done. And speaking of the coaching staff, a big thank you goes out to head coach Craig Martin who spent some time playing in the W.H.L. and to his two assistants, former Thunder players themselves, Curtis Croteau and Peter Danyluk, for volunteering their time to work with the young Thunder team teaching some of the skills that they have learned over the years.

Storm

The Midget Girls Storm hosted Macklin on Sunday night right after the Thunder tournament in the second round of their playoffs, losing a really close one 3 to 2. Team captain Megan Proskiwi and Eryl Anton Roberts each scoring a goal and assisting on each other. Goalie Kristen Campbell facing 39 shots.

Happy birthday this past weekend, on Saturday, March 6th to 11-year-old Jordyn

"Tiger" Wozniak. The "Tiger" is a key player in this coming weekend Atom provincial final in Viking. Good luck to all the Atom Avalanche team, we're extremely proud of your accomplishments.

Coming up this week:

Tonight, Tuesday March 9th from 5.30 p.m. to 7.00 p.m. it's team picture night. Please come early and be dressed and ready to go on the ice. Remember, there is no cost this year, as the pictures are sponsored by the Serves Credit Union, so be sure to stop by and thank manager Rod Randall. Also the plans are still underway for the annual minor hockey windup dinner and awards on Saturday, March 27th, at the Seniors Hall. This is a great way to recap the season, the kids look forward to it, and so if you have any ideas on the supper and program, etc. please contact Darlene Kozicky or myself as soon as possible.

And now for the K. A. Campbell's quote of the week "Here's how bad the Islanders are. The Czechs are defecting to get away from them." Last week's answer to: "I went to the fights the other night and a hockey game broke out." -Rodney Dangerfield. Do you have any scoops? Now you can email them to sportshound007@hotmail.com

A busy week at the library with many new arrivals

By Leanne Bjornstad
Elk Point Public Library

Many exciting books have arrived at the library lately - both new books and donations. The library received over 50 Harlequin romances and quite a few mysteries. We've added greatly to our collection of videos, including an entire John Wayne collection, "A Midsummer Night's Dream" and "Chicago". Chilling true crime and true stories, from the "FBI's Ten Most Wanted" to accounts of hurricane Roxanne, are here for your reading pleasure.

Also new is "Believing the Dream", a great dramatic read by Lauraine Snelling. It is the story of a young man in the 1890s trying to fight the troubles of the times. Other new Christian fiction are novels by Lori Wick, Beverly Lewis, Lauraine Snelling and Karen Kingsbury.

Recent non-fiction additions include "The Story Behind Alberta Names", where you can read about the names of Alberta towns and where they came from. Mirror, Alberta was named for the Daily Mirror newspaper in Britain, with streets named for the newspaper staff! Local histories of Leduc and LaCorey arrived this month, for those interested in local history. "This is My Story, This is My Song", written by local Albertan Frank Squires, describes his life from childhood in Britain to life in Canada.

Our books for sale have also increased, so come and check them out. We sell 10 books for a dollar.

Reminder:

The Elk Point Library continues to offer interlibrary loan services and internet access. Bring us the name of a book and we can order it for you at no cost. You can also order the books on the internet at www.trac-pac.ab.ca Simply search using the author name, subject or book title and press order. Stop in at the library for a brochure about inter-library loan service. Please return books from other libraries promptly!

The Library Board is still seeking new board members. If you are interested, please stop in and find out what it's all about.

FOCUS ON PEOPLE DRIVEN BY RESULTS

Canadian Natural Resources Limited is a senior oil and natural gas exploration, development and production company with a proven track record of growth since 1989. Our strategy is to manage for long-term growth. We have a well-defined plan to significantly grow our business over the next decade. Oil, gas and heavy oil property balances our domestic and international holdings, and we have a large, undeveloped land inventory. Our success is directly attributed to the contribution of every member of our team working together to increase shareholder value.

As a result of our growth, we are looking for a dynamic individual to fill this challenging position.

SURFACE LANDMAN, NORTHEAST ALBERTA AREA

THIS POSITION IS LOCATED IN OUR BONNYVILLE FIELD OFFICE.
POSITION #2004-EP81

You will be responsible for surface rights acquisition, and community and government relations/consultation. You will work with CNRL community liaison staff on developing positive working relationships with Aboriginal communities in close proximity to our operations. You will utilize your knowledge and expertise to provide direction to surface land administrators on acquisition status and registration, and also to the reclamation group to ensure surface leases are properly reclaimed and certificates and releases are achieved. You will take a lead role and work closely with District Production Superintendent and Foremen on community and government issues and will act as a representative of CNRL for specific projects.

Your minimum of five years of experience in the oil and gas industry is complemented with working knowledge of surface lease acquisition and coordination. Formal land management training or a suitable alternate combination of education and training is desired. A valid Alberta Land Agent License and a valid Commissioner of Oaths are required. Your superior communication, organizational and team skills are complemented with a strong work ethic. The ideal candidate has sound judgment and negotiation skills and can work independently. The successful applicant will reside in the working area or be willing to relocate.

Interested candidates are invited to submit their resume, clearly indicating the position title and number, by March 15, 2004, to:

Human Resources
Canadian Natural Resources Limited
Suite 2500, 855 - 2nd Street SW, Calgary, AB T2P 4J8
Fax: (403) 517-7352
Email: careers@cnrl.com
(Please type the position title and number in the subject line of your email.
Please send your resume in Microsoft Word format)

To learn more about Canadian Natural and other career opportunities available, please visit our web site at www.cnrl.com.

We thank all applicants for submitting their resume; however, only those candidates selected for an interview will be contacted.

International Women's Week celebrates progress, gains and accomplishments around the world

Women of the world, take a bow! This week is all about you!

Canadians are celebrating International Women's Week (IWW) from Sunday, March 7 to Saturday, March 13, 2004, with the highlight being International Women's Day on March 8.

Established in 1977 by the United Nations, this special day provides an opportunity to reflect on the progress made to advance women's equality, to assess the challenges facing women in contemporary society, to consider future steps to enhance the status of women and, of course, to celebrate the gains made in these areas.

The Canadian theme for this year's IWW/IWD 2004 is "She's on a Role!"

Many Canadian women, from athletes to social activists, have accomplished great things in their community, country and around the world. Some of these women receive little recognition for their efforts, yet provide shining examples for Canadians and Canadian youth in particular to follow their dreams, no matter what barriers and opposition they may face. This year's theme encourages Canadians to take a closer look at what has been accomplished to promote gender equality and build Canada into the country it is today, as well as celebrating the many women who continue to work towards these goals.

Here at home, we salute women who own and operate businesses, practice demanding professions, or are involved in local governments, as well as those who stay at home to care for the newest generation of Albertans, and those who are devoted employees, getting the job done from the oil industry to food service to retail businesses. You are valued. You are appreciated. You are women.

A woman's work can take her into many ventures and fields of endeavor.

Do you remember where you've seen these women at work?

Guess who these women are
